A marketplace for places to stay.

Travelino connects travelers with apartment and vacation-home hosts, bringing discovery, bookings and the tools for managing a stay together.

Corporate snapshot

Company	Travelino, Inc.
Planned incorporation	Delaware, United States
Status	Incorporation in progress
Official filing date / state file number	Awaiting confirmation

The platform

For guests: discover homes, check availability and review prices, house rules and cancellation terms before booking.

For hosts: manage listing details, calendars, reservations and guest communication.

Travelino is a marketplace. Homes shown on the platform are accommodation listings; this overview does not represent them as corporate investment assets.

Current service model

1%	None	Free
Host service fee	Guest booking fee	Listing a home

The host service fee applies to the booking subtotal: nightly rates after discounts, cleaning and extra-guest fees. Platform pricing is not an investment return or financial performance measure. Check travelino.com/host/ for current terms.

Investor access

New interest registration is coming soon. A future identity and eligibility review would require a separate invitation. Investment access would require a further invitation and the applicable approvals.

No share purchase, reservation, investment commitment or payment is accepted through the Investor Relations page.

Available information

Company background and platform information are available online. The official formation date and file number are awaiting confirmation. Financial statements, audited results, forecasts and confirmed governance materials are not published in the investor resource center.

This overview does not announce an exchange listing or a trading symbol.

Important information

This is a company information sheet. Any future offering would require its own complete documents and applicable legal and investor reviews. Private investments can lose their entire value, may be illiquid and may be diluted by later financing. No return, dividend, allocation or future listing is promised.
